FAMILY CIRCLE.

The Infidel and His Daughter.

(Suggested by reading a newspaper paragraph describing the scene between Kieran Allen and his daughter on the eve of her death, she asked the story writer in whose faith she should have her die, his or her mother's.)

"The damps of death are coming fast,
My father or my brow;
The past, with all its scenes, has fled,
And I must turn me now
To that dim future which in vain
My feeble eyes decry;
Tell me, my father, in this hour,
In whose stern faith to die?"

"In thine! I watched the scornful smile
And heard the withering tone,
Whence the Christian's humble hope
Was placed above thine own;
I've heard thee speak of coming death
Without a shade of gloom,
And laugh at all the childish fears
That cluster round the tomb."

"Or is it in my mother's faith?
How fondly do I trace,
Through many a weary year long past,
That calm and saintly face!
How often do I call to mind,
Now she is 'neath the sod,
The place, the hour in which she drew
My early thoughts to God."

"'Twas then she took this sacred book,
And from its burning page
Read how its truths support the soul
In youth and failing age!
And bade me in its precepts live,
And by its precepts die,
That I might share a home of love
In worlds beyond the sky."

"My father, shall I look above,
Amid this gathering gloom,
To Him whose promises of love
Extend beyond the tomb;
Or cease the being who has best
This checked path of mine,
And promise eternal rest,
Or die, my sire, in thine?"

The frown upon that warrior brow,
Passel like a cloud away,
And tears coursed down the rugged cheek
That flowed not till that day.
"Not—not in mine," with choking voice,
The skeptic made reply—
"But in thy mother's holy faith,
My daughter, may'st thou die!"

A Remarkable Fight.

A South Missouri man recently was tried on a charge of assault. The State brought into court as the weapons—a rail, an ax, a pair of tongs, a saw and a rifle. The defendant's counsel exhibited as the other man's weapons a scythe blade, a pitchfork, a pistol and a hoe. The jury's verdict is said to have been:

"Resolved, That we, the jury, would have given $1 to have seen the fight."

MAY SHIP LIQUOR

Into Local Option Towns, Supreme Court Says.

Kentucky Law Conflicts With Federal Constitution.

The United States Supreme Court on May 24 reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Hart county, Ky., in the case of the Adams Express Company vs. the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Justice Harlan dissenting.

It was contended that the Kentucky statute, as applied to the transportation of liquor from State to State, was in conflict with the section of the Federal Constitution giving Congress control over interstate commerce. This contention was denied by the State court, and thus a question arose under the Federal Constitution decided adversely to the plaintiff in error.

Justice Brewer said: "Liquor, however obnoxious and hurtful it may be in the judgment of many, is a recognized article of commerce."

The court then quotes from the decision of Justice White in the Vance & Vandercrook Company case, which says: "The proposition is well established that the right to send liquors from one State into another, and the act of sending the same, is interstate commerce, the regulation whereof has been committed by the Constitution to Congress, and hence, that a State law which denies such a right or substantially interferes with or hampers the same is in conflict with the Constitution." "Clearly in the cases cited," said the court, "the State statute cannot be sustained. The judgment of the Circuit Court of Hart county is reversed, and the case remanded to that court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the views expressed."

Colored Song Writer Dead.

Reuben Crowders, the colored song writer, died in New York City. He was a native of Bowling Green, Ky. He was a composer and a singer of note, and sang throughout this country and in Europe. He made famous "All Coons Look Alike to Me." He is said to have cleared $40,000 on the sale of one of his songs.

UNUSUAL SCENE

Witnessed at Auditorium When Saloon Question Comes Up.

In Lexington on Tuesday night, May 25, Evangelist W. T. Brooks made public answer to Mayor Skain's interview published in Monday's Leader. This question was handed the evangelist by some one:

"Mr. Brooks: I note in the Leader that the Mayor says that the police are doing all in their power to enforce the laws against Sunday violation by the saloons and that he expresses surprise that any of the saloons are open. How many people in Lexington do you suppose will believe what the Mayor says?"

Mr. Brooks, in answering, said that he would not assume to know more about the city than its own citizens, and asked: "If there are those who think he is correct, please indicate the same by rising to your feet." Not a soul stood. Finally one man arose.

"Now, how many people believe the Mayor has misrepresented the facts?"

Practically the whole audience of about one thousand people rose to their feet.

"Now the Mayor of Lexington has his answer. If I were Mayor of Lexington and one thousand of its best citizens publicly declared that I had misrepresented the facts in a matter like this, I would resign my office and apologize for my poor benighted condition. You people have passed sentence upon your own official."

"Now, I want to ask how many people in the audience have seen people passing in and out of Lexington saloons on Sunday and could testify of your own knowledge that the saloons are open on the Lord's Day?"

About three hundred people stood up.

"There is evidence for the Mayor, cried the evangelist. 'Now he wants me to swear out warrants against the five men who sold liquor to two men last Sunday, which I do not intend to do. I am not prosecuting a few men of Lexington. I am after the good people of Lexington to make your officials enforce the law against all these saloons, and from the message I have received today, I am persuaded that the people are aroused.'"

Stuart Wins--Harmon Owes Him Nearly $24,000.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the case of Archer Harmon against T. G. Stuart from Clark county and directed that judgment be entered in favor of Stuart for nearly $24,000. The suit grew out of a deal in mountain land made over twenty years ago, and the case has been to the Court of Appeals three times.

SALOONIST

Whose License is Revoked Cannot Recover Fees.

By a decision of the Court of Appeals at Frankfort, May 26, a saloonkeeper whose license has been revoked by the proper authorities cannot recover from the city the unearned portion of the yearly license fee which he has paid for the privilege of opening the saloon. The case was that of the city of Louisville against Mary Cain. The License Board revoked Mary Cain's license because of alleged selling of liquor in violation of the Sunday laws. The woman tendered her license and demanded a return of the unearned portion of the license. She sued and recovered judgment for $137. The full court was sitting in consideration of the case and reversed the judgment of the lower court. The higher court says that the woman had nothing to surrender, her license having been revoked, and that therefore she was not entitled to recover. The court decided, in addition, that as no definite sum was named in Mary Cain's bond for her fulfillment of the requirements of the law, the city cannot recover on her bond.

Seek Cobless Corn.

E. P. House, the dry farm plant experimenter, has received from H. J. Sconce, of Siddell, Ill., one seed of cobless corn grown by the Illinois man. House asked for three seeds to plant in a hill, but only one could be spared and it will be carefully tended. The cobless corn grown by the Illinois man resembles very closely the "primitive husk" corn. Each kernel grows on a parent stem and each kernel is inclosed in its own husk, all being enveloped in one large husk. The Illinois man has succeeded in eliminating the stem and by taking the very tip kernel of the present variety expects ultimately to evolve a perfect cobless corn.

Annoying urinary disorders,
'Tis a weary way, indeed,
Doan's Kidney Pills drive weariness away.

Are endorsed by Mt. Sterling citizens.
H. C. Greenwade, 25 Queen street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says:

"I attribute my kidney trouble to the constant strain required in my work as a blacksmith. While I was never in such a condition that I was not able to work, nevertheless I was in misery. I frequently had severe attacks of lumbago, which sometimes lasted for days and weeks, and made my life and work a burden instead of a pleasure. I am pleased to say that Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at F. C. Duerson's drug store, gave me prompt relief from the last attack and since using them I have had no recurrence. I am pleased to recommend this remedy to other sufferers from kidney complaint."

HAZELRIGG & SON

DANGER OF THE HOUSE-FLY.

BY DR. L. O. HOWARD.

To make people realize the danger that lurks in the sticky footsteps of the house fly or typhoid fly, Dr. L. O. Howard, one of the foremost entomologists in this country, has written the following article on the danger of the fly:

"Get your screens up. Do it now. The typhoid flies are just beginning to make their appearance. Don't let them get established."

"It is demonstrated beyond question that the fly—what people used to call the house fly—is the principal cause of typhoid fever. It is also a big causative factor in tuberculosis and intestinal diseases. 'Take the Spanish-American war for example. It furnishes the most striking instance of the danger of the typhoid fly, previously considered harmless."

"One man in every five who went to the front got typhoid fever during the campaign, the disease manifesting itself within the first two months of encampment. Typhoid fever caused 80 per cent. of all the deaths in that war. Typhoid was four times as fatal as the Spaniards' bullets."

"A United States army medical commission was appointed to find out the cause of this remarkable epidemic."

"Most people thought that bad water was the cause of typhoid. It was not. Bad water brought on only a small percentage of the deaths."

"The real cause, as the medical commission learned after a thorough investigation, was the typhoid fly."

"The fly thrives in the country, where it breeds in stables and carries disease to the farmers' homes. It thrives in the city, where it can spread the thousands of germs it carries among thousands of people. 'It is highly important for people to be on their guard. City ordinances governing stables and the disposition of refuse, and the placing of screens in windows and doors of houses by individuals will help much in the meantime."

Clean Primaries Planned.

The Democrats and Republicans of Owensboro have united in a movement for clean primaries, and have about reached the decision that a joint primary is the best solution of the corruption problem. If the plan goes through the expense will be divided, and there will be two sets of officers and two ballot boxes at every poll. By this means floaters cannot vote in both primaries and dealing in registration certificates will be stopped.

Name of Jefferson Davis Reappears on Old Bridge.

The name of Jefferson Davis has again been chiseled again into the stone in famous Cabin John's Bridge, six miles west of Washington, D. C. President Roosevelt having given instruction to this effect previous to his retirement.

As the bridge was built when Mr. Davis was Secretary of War, his name was contained in the stone tablet in the structure, which is the aqueduct over which the district's water supply passes. During President Lincoln's administration, and after Mr. Davis had become President of the Confederacy, the latter's name was chiseled out by some stanch adherent of the Union.

A man who as a private citizen persistently refuses to pay an account which he can easily meet will be unworthy and unsafe as an official, and will be liable to "hunch" or pad his accounts against a city, county or state if he thinks he can escape detection. He does not have to become an official to be careless, dishonest or unsafe; he is that already as a citizen. Voters know BEFORE election day what to expect after election day. The same rule applies to the morality and sobriety of men before and after "having honor thrust upon them by the dear people." This writer has heard it said that the evils of the Democratic party should be corrected in the party; i. e. before the contest takes place between Democrats and Republicans. Now while the contest is between only Democratic candidates for the nomination, we are constrained by facts to plead with the Democrats of Montgomery County to nominate for district and county offices men who are debt-paying, law-abiding, sober, honest and moral. If we do not nominate high-toned men we bring reproach upon ourselves, unless the opposing party puts up the same kind.

OUR SAFETY.

The following is taken from the Winchester News:
"The perpetuity of Republican institutions depends on the sacredness of the ballot. The theft of a vote is more than the theft of a dollar. The latter injures the individual from whom the money is taken and incidentally the State. The stealing of the ballot is a crime against the life of a State.
"We in Kentucky are far behind the great majority of the States in the protection we throw around the ballot box. It is a venial sin here to buy and sell a vote. A man who is honest in business, who is a good church member, will aid in the corruption of the ballot, will help to steal a primary election and think nothing of it.
"No law is worth anything unless it is backed by an enlightened public sentiment. It must be made disgraceful for a man to buy a vote. The decent people of the community must be awakened to their duty and must frown upon the practice. That is the only way in which it can be stopped."
Our readers will please seriously think of the statements. Much in them meets our approval. If there have been mistakes in the past, turn away from such thoughtlessness or wilful intent, forget them, or let the memory be a stimulus to nobler living.

Men sometimes unintentionally violate laws; others knowingly and wilfully and frequently violate them. The former are good citizens; the latter are bad citizens, with respect to the particular acts contemplated.

GRAND JURY SAYS "PROHIBITION DOES NOT PROHIBIT."

The grand jury of Madison County in their report touch upon the local option question as follows:

"While we believe local option to a great extent is responsible for the suppression of much lawlessness here, we do not believe that prohibition prohibits. We find that something like 100 cases of whisky is shipped into this city and county during the run of a month, and we do not believe it just and fair that this community should be subjected to the results of this drink, while our neighboring States of Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee and others reap the revenue thereof."

In a case of whisky there are three gallons; hence about 300 gallons are shipped monthly into Madison County. There were, we think, 11 saloons in the county before local option carried. If these 11 saloons were still in operation and sold no more than 300 gallons in a month the owners would think that times were dull and dry.

Prohibition may not prohibit in Madison County, but it evidently diminishes the sale and "to a great extent is responsible for the suppression of much lawlessness" in the county, while, "Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee and others reap the revenue thereof."

Which should be preferable, "the suppression of much lawlessness" or the revenue derived from the licenses of 11 saloons after deducting what the city and county have paid for taking care of the drunks and law breaking resulting from the sale?

The following is from the Sun-Sentinel, Winchester:

"The Jailer has just informed me that a drunken printer that he has in custody wants to see me. I said to the Jailer: 'Keep him. I know of no place more suitable for a drunken printer than the jail, unless it would be in Hell.'"

We are grieved to see a drunken printer. We wish for him better conditions. While we remember the fate of a drunkard and know that no drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven, we plead with the printers who are drunkards to quit their drunkenness. Christ came to save printers and editors. He can save us from the habit and lead us to heaven, if we will do our part. Get on the water wagon.

"Righteousness exalts a nation;" yet too many christian voters think that a licentious, drunken, law-breaking man is good enough for them.

An honest man can be trusted in office.

INCREASE IN PRICE OF NATURAL GAS.

Committees from Lexington, Winchester and Mt. Sterling Clubs Unite in Action.

PROTEST AGAINST THE RAISE.

The Committee appointed by the Lexington, Mt. Sterling and Winchester Commercial Clubs to look into the increase in the price of gas held a meeting in Winchester on Friday. Lexington was represented by R. H. Smith and Simon Wolf; Mt. Sterling by John S. Frazer and W. A. Samuels; Winchester by B. R. Jonett, J. E. Garner, F. G. Cornell, R. R. Perry and George Tomlinson. The committee wrote the company entering a protest. Following is the letter sent:

"Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company,

Titusville, Pa.

"Gentlemen:—Committees composed of R. H. Smith and Simon Wolfe appointed by the Commercial Club of Lexington, W. A. Samuels and John S. Frazer appointed by the Commercial Club of Mt. Sterling, and John E. Garner, F. G. Cornell, George E. Tomlinson, R. R. Perry and B. R. Jonett appointed by the Commercial Club of Winchester, met here for the purpose of framing resolutions protesting against the raising of the price of gas, which you have announced would go into effect in June of this year.

ASK REASON FOR INCREASE.

"By unanimous resolution, the committee decided to write you in regard to this increase, to ask why same is now put into effect. We are aware that in the franchise which you have with each of the three cities there was a maximum and a minimum rate fixed, but our citizens were also assured by the representative of your company, that the minimum rate would be applied and maintained unless certain contingencies should arise which would necessitate an increased price in order to pay a reasonable dividend on the investment, none of which though, so far as we are aware, have arisen.

"It is currently reported that the common stock of your company, which two years ago, was of practically no value, has now become very valuable, and this value has been brought about while you were maintaining the price of gas at 25 cents per thousand cubic feet and it is generally understood that the present prevailing price of gas is sufficient to make you reasonable returns on your actual investment.

NO FEELING OF HOSTILITY.

"If we are wrong in the above surmise we would like to hear from you in regard to same. Our protest against the increased price is prompted by no feeling of hostility to you, as we hold your success of vital importance to the interests of communities, but we Further contend that our citizens should not be made to pay an unreasonable rate for gas that you might be enabled to declare larger dividends.

"We have not yet had a careful examination made of the citizen's legal rights under your franchise, but will later investigate this, with a view of resisting your increased price, if it should become necessary; but before taking this step we have decided to write you and request that you reconsider your action in regard to this increase and that you permit the old rate of 25 cents per thousand to prevail. We would appreciate it if you would let us hear from you in answer to this request and will ask you to address your communication to Lucien Beckner, Secretary of the Winchester Commercial Club, Winchester, Kentucky.

"Yours very truly

with a record of almost a QUARTER of a CENTURY of square dealing behind it; with a store that its owners can point with pride as a substantial monument to the business which erected it.

Others may waver, change front, and be lured into the bogs and quicksands of misrepresentation and trickery, to TEMPORARILY INFLATE THEIR DRAGGING business. Not so with us. We are doing a business PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY to ourselves—a business of GREATER VOLUME this year than last. Our organization is farther reaching and more effective; our FACILITIES are being continually enlarged; our capital is sufficient to command the BEST, which the PRODUCING world ever put upon the market.

We are grateful to the many patrons who started with us as BOYS and REMAIN with us as FATHERS. We fully appreciate the NEW patronage which we are getting all the time. We BELIEVE in and are PROUD of Mt. Sterling, which we have watched day by day and seen grow from a town of lanterns and street lamps to a hustling city with electric lights, natural gas water works and conveniences that many a great city would be envious of. This is our declaration of principles. If you like them come and do business with us, giving us a chance to make good.

The Pure Linen Policy

is pursued here in Shirts, Collars and Cuffs. There is a law in New York State, where all good collars are made, that no collar can be branded linen unless it is linen. H. & I. Collars are linen and branded so. Are the ones you are buying? All the new styles here.

The MANHATTAN SHIRT needs no praise for its quality or its style; it needs no advertising nor talk to sell it. All that one has to do is to get them—that's the most important point. Everybody don't sell Manhattans, you know. The Spring line is here and here only. The styles are ready for inspection.

The ECLIPSE SHIRT, the best shirt on the market for the money, and sold in connection with the Manhattan, here in a great chain of patterns at $1 to $2. Ask for the linen bladed number.

The All-Fur Policy

and the reward of honesty in a business has been thoroughly proven by the great success of E. M. Knox and John B. Stetson's in the fur hat business. These men began making genuine fur hats and charging far prices years ago. The balance is well known, and their hats, too, in every civilized nation. Stetson and Knox Spring styles are low on sale.

THE ALL-RICE STRAW POLICY

is clearly shown by the class of straw sailors we show. The Hopkins and Knox sennets and milans in the prevailing styles of the fashion centers.

No more, no less.

The All-Leather Policy

can only be established and maintained by selling goods of a standard brand and selling the best grades of these brands. J. & M., Eclipse and W. L. Douglas Shoes have made a place for themselves in this store because they are superior to any other goods offered in the shoe lines. The styles are correct. We can fit more hard-to-fit people, please more particular people and give better service to people who want service than any shoe store in East Kentucky, because we buy right and sell right.

The Spring and Summer styles are now on sale and selling.

The All-Cotton and

Mercerized Policy

In our Underwear Department will be seen the most comprehensive line ever shown here. Balbriggans, Lises, Mercerized Cottons, Linen Mesh, Cotton Mesh, Porous Cotton and Nainsook in Shirts and Drawers, also Union Suits in Scrivens, B. V. D. and Wilson Bros. makes from 25c the garment to $3 the suit.

In our Hosiery Department will be found the popular Solid Colours in Interwoven Polkadots in Blues, Blacks, Greens and Browns, Stripes, Self Figures and Plain Silk. The biggest and best line ever shown here.

The All-Wool Policy

The Students' Suit. How would you think a Students' Suit would be cut? Don't the name suggest youth, snap, dash, and maybe a little sentiment on the side? Well, that's what the Students' Suit is. It's built for the young chap who is living every minute of the time—a three-button sack, cut long with decided form fitting back, broad shoulders and full flaring skirt, the vest is in keeping with the spirit of the coat and the trousers are those full-hipped fellows who girdle the waist tight, hold on to the hips and are finished with a big deep 3-inch cuff at bottom that you turn up yourself. Picture a beautiful blue serge, a regatta stripe or a beautiful Fitzburgh worsted in a students' cut and the prices are reasonable will buy a Students' Suit. Just take the time and see this special style. Ask for it, glad to hear you call for them and delighted to show you.

$15, $18, $20 or $22.50

The All-Wool Policy

NOTICE.—Believing that the day will come when all things will be branded what they really are, we began agitating with men well up in the manufacture of clothing—an all-wool policy—and we have succeeded to no small degree in the advancement of such an idea.

Today, some of the best concerns, namely, Stein-Bloch and Hamburger Bros., are making into the finished garments no cloth which is not absolutely all wool and free from cotton fiber. These goods are branded all wool and will stand the test. We do not hope to increase our sales by the information furnished along these lines or the part we are taking for the betterment of the clothing business, but we do hope to raise it to a higher standard for the common good. Stein-Bloch and Hamburger Bros. Spring and Summer Suits are now on display and easily shown from our dust-proof modern cabinets.

Prices range from : $15 to $35

We will take pleasure in showing you any day in the week from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m.

"ASK FOR THE MARCONI WIRE SUIT."

The All Wool Policy

has charge of every clothing spot in this store. Even our $10 Suits of Serge Worsteds, Cassimeres, Thibets and Cheviots, made in the famous Fifth Avenue and Manhattan styles are absolutely ALL WOOL. Think of it, an all-wool suit for $10 from a store that knows wool, from a store that has honorably existed in your city for almost a quarter of a century. Style with quality, quality and price the maximum of the former, the minimum of the latter, the store where you ought to buy, the store that invites your inspection.

The All-Wool Policy in the Boys' Dept.

Often we hear some customer say, a little cotton is good in clothes. Well, we say the "littler" the better. Take our advice, let the other fellow get the cotton and you take the wool. Go to a store that knows wool after it has been taken from the sheep's back. It's more important that your boys' clothes should be all wool than any other member of the family. See that the cloth is free from grease that so often remains from poor washing of the raw material. Save all these things which expert buying on our part insures you. Bring the boy here and see the new Suits, Hats, Shoes, Undewear and Furnishings in our big department on the Balcony. A boys' store Suit from $3 to $12.50, Cap at 50c, Hats $1 to $2.50, Shoes, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3.

A look here shows your appreciation for our efforts in showing a great line of washable suits for Summer wear at $1 to $6, ages from 2 to 10.

CLOTHING.

Chicago—Paris Clothier Importing Hirsch, Wickwire & Co.'s Lines for His Fall Trade.—M. Charvet, of Paris, a leader of fashions in men's apparel, is importing from Hirsch, Wickwire & Co. American clothing for his fall trade. Dwight S. Hirsch, of the firm, who for the past two years has gone to Europe to select foreign fabrics for its various lines, met M. Charvet while in Paris. The latter became interested in the Hirsch, Wickwire & Co. clothing and placed a liberal order with Mr. Hirsch for the coming season's goods. This, it is believed, is the first instance of American-made clothing being imported to Europe and placed on sale there.

M. Charvet is regarded not only in Paris but throughout Europe as the Tiffany in men's wear. His store is located in one of the most fashionable quarters of Paris, 25 Vendôme place. The above interesting piece of news was first announced in the Ocean Gazette, published on board the Kronprinz Wilhelm on March 16, under the head Chicago Notes. It said: "It has been reported that Dwight Hirsch, of Hirsch, Wickwire & Co., has established an agency for their famous clothing in Paris at Charvet's, the well-known clothier and haberdasher, and this item was wired by the Marconi system to the Associated Press."

M. Charvet believes that the American clothing will create a new field in the old world, and his displaying of these American productions will certainly bring this clothing before the best dressers in the world.—Chicago Daily Trade Record.

In our last advertisement we told you about the "Clothes we sell and why we sell them." This clipping is from the Chicago Daily Trade Record of March 26, 1908, and is one of the many reasons why we sell "HIRSH WICKWIRE & CO.'s" line of ready-for-service clothes.

It is said M. Charvet of Paris, furnished King Edward of London, with many articles of haberdashery. And, no doubt, by now "His Royal Highness" is wearing a Hirsch Wickwire Suit. Yes, this is the line you see displayed in our cabinets every day.

Now all we ask is for you to give us the pleasure of showing you this great line of Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute Commencement.

On Thursday evening, May 27, there was an open session entertainment by the Addison and Sterling Societies. The program was varied and most interesting; each pupil did well the part assigned. On the whole there has never been a better entertainment given by a school in our city, which speaks well for the careful training of the pupils in this line.

On Friday, May 28, the Commencement program was given as follows: After a most beautiful and appropriate chorus—"Praise the Father"—Rev. Moody presided, pronounced the invocation. The large chorus sang "Our Vacation is Our Clover."

Miss Virgie Clay McClure read a most carefully prepared thesis on "Alone, Yet Not All Alone." The thoughts of this thesis and the manner of expression were appropriate, timely and beautiful. She was graduated in the preparatory classical course, and received a diploma setting forth the fact.

Dr. J. L. Weber delivered the Commencement address, which was replete with choice thoughts expressed in his own splendid way, and carried the large audience with him, making a most lasting impress.

Announcement of the best three grades in each class made by pupils on examinations was made, and Rev. Clark presented gold medals to the person who stood highest in scholarship and general merit. This person was Charles Moxley, of Stepstone neighborhood. He received both medals. Miss Sleet sang a beautiful solo, and Rev. Clark pronounced the benediction.

Bruce Robbins was awarded a beautiful book by Miss Whaley, for the best essay on "How to Improve and Beautify Mt. Sterling." The enrollment for the year was one hundred and twenty-five, of whom eighteen were boarders.

The three years of this school shows that Mt. Sterling is a place for such an institution, and that with suitable buildings and grounds we could have a large attendance of boarders and day pupils. To be blind to such an opportunity is educational suicide.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the digestion, regulate the bowels. Give them a trial, and get well. Sold by all dealers. 47-5t

Burned to Death.

While in a class drill at Central City, near Danville, on Monday night of last week during an entertainment at the closing of Mrs. Boyd's school a drill in which about 50 children took part was being enacted. The lights were turned out and candles were carried by the little girls. By accident a little girl dropped a candle, setting fire to her dress. The flames spread to other dresses and instantly a panic followed. Great excitement prevailed in the audience. One little girl with burning dress jumped from the stage into the arms of her aunt. Four girls aged 6 to 10 years, were so fearfully burned that they died by Wednesday afternoon. Two of them were sisters, 8 and 10 years of age.

DEATHS.

Hoy.—Mrs. Margaret Hoy died at Platte City, Mo., her home on Friday morning, May 28, 1909. Mrs. Mary D. Jones, of our city, her sister, arrived in time to see her before she died. Friends here will remember to have met Mrs. Hoy while visiting here.

SWANGO.—Ambrose Swango, who for many years has lived near Stanton, Ky., and who has been an invalid for a few years, died at his home and was taken to Stillwater, Wolfe county, his native place, and was buried on Friday of last week. He leaves a wife and seven children. He was a farmer, and was for some years Magistrate of the county, and was highly respected.

BENTON.—Dr. Percy Benton died at his home at Mt. Vernon, Ky., on Friday, May 28, 1909. He was born and reared in this county, and was 48 years of age in March of this year, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Benton, deceased. He is survived by his wife, nee Miss Linda David, and three children and an only sister, Mrs. H. B. Kinsolving, of our city. He had been in feeble health for several months, and seriously sick for three weeks from a blood clot on the brain. His sister was with him since Monday. He was a doctor of reputed ability in his section and had many friends. The remains arrived in our city on Sunday at 12:25 p. m., and were taken to the Kinsolving home and then laid to rest in Machpelah with the honors of Knights Templar. The family have the sympathy of many of our people.

CHILES.—Miss Mary Rogers Chiles, aged 26 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Chiles, of this city, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, on Monday, early afternoon, May 31, 1909. She was taken to Lexington on Friday afternoon and at 6 o'clock was operated on for appendicitis. Alarming conditions were revealed by the operation and prospects for recovery were discouraging from the first. Members of the family, not already with her made a hasty trip in auto on Monday, arriving a short time before she died. The remains were brought home on the C. & O. train at 7:05 p. m. The funeral service will be held at the residence on W. Main street this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. G. Moody, of the Presbyterian church and the burial will be in Machpelah. Miss Chiles was very popular, of commanding personality, and especially gifted as a singer. Much time had been spent in developing her voice, and she had charmed audiences wherever she went, nor was she selfish in the use of her powers of song. She was much interested in Endeavor and Sunday School and other church activities. Before she left for Lexington and after the operation she believed that she would not recover, but the thought of dying brought no fear. In the prime of young womanhood her earth work is over, and the voice is still, but with the "choir invisible" to mortal eyes she will sing.

At the cemetery on the John Velsch lot is a unique home-made vase. A titling about 15 by 24 inches, was covered with putty. In this is imbedded many shells and various playthings and trinkets used by their dear little boy, who died in April. On one side is a tablet with date of death and on the other is the child's picture.

June 28, 29 and 30th are the days. Be there for your part.

Electric Road.

On Thursday fully 40 business men from Winchester went to North Middletown to confer with men from there and Sharpsburg relative to an electric road to connect these three places. No definite conclusion except further conference was reached. The route is through very fine and productive country; both termini and central point are conspicuous for enterprise, beauty, resources and trade, but Mt. Sterling will no doubt be heard from and be in the circuit. Success to the enterprise.
